

FOOD INSECURITY THROUGH INDIGENOUS PERSPECTIVES

NOVEMBER 20, 2018

11:00 – 12:30

Melanie Kurrein from the BC Centre for Disease Control will open the dialogue by providing the latest research on household food insecurity and discussing how household food insecurity is framed in Canada. She will look at how the current discourse of household food insecurity may/may not apply to the Indigenous context and will ask some questions that are yet to be answered. Melanie will open the dialogue by providing the latest research on household food insecurity (HFI) and discussing how HFI is framed in Canada. She will look at how the current discourse of HFI may/may not apply to the Indigenous context and will ask some questions that are yet to be answered.

THIS PRESENTATION IS PRESENTED AND HOSTED BY THE UBC LEARNING CIRCLES. SOME INFORMATION PRESENTED MAY NOT BE APPLICABLE TO ALBERTA RESIDENTS.

---

AUDIO LINES AND LIVE STREAM WILL BE AVAILABLE FOR THOSE WHO CAN NOT ATTEND VIA VIDEOCONFERENCE EQUIPMENT

---

TO REGISTER FOR THIS SESSION (INCLUDING AUDIO LINES AND LIVE STREAM) VISIT THE FIRST NATIONS TELEHEALTH PORTAL AT WWW.FNTN.CA

---

FIRST NATIONS
TELEHEALTH NETWORK

1-888-999-3356

Vchelp@fntn.ca

www.fntn.ca