

October 2, 2019 2:00 – 3:30 Growing Up Online:

A Toolkit for Service Providers Working with Children, Youth and Families Experiencing Problematic Use of Digital Technology

This presentation will provide service provider's evidence – based practice information to use when they believe digital technology is problematic for children, youth or their families. Additionally, it will help service providers start conversations and carry out interventions and supports in partnership with children, youth and families.

Learning Outcomes:

- Participants will recognize the impacts of problematic/pathological use of digital technology through a process addiction lens.
- Participants will increase awareness of resources and develop skills when addressing problematic use of digital technology with children and youth.

Speaker Information:

Dr. Linda Kongnetiman, PhD MSW RSW
Manager, Provincial Addiction & Mental Health, Information and CYFI Standards, AHS linda.kongnetiman@albertahealthservices.ca
Arianna Mestre Wong, MSc MSW
Consultant, Provincial Addiction & Mental Health, Information and CYFI Standards, AHS arianna.mestre-wong@albertahealthservices.ca

Live stream will be made available

To access this session from an audio line dial 1.833.362.3684 code 14001

Speakers are from Provincial Addiction & Mental Health, Information and CYFI Standards, AHS

Visit the First Nations Telehealth Network Portal at www.fntn.ca to register for this session

FIRST NATIONS TELEHEALTH NETWORK

1.888.999.3356

www.fntn.ca

vchelp@fntn.ca