

Building Resilience to Multi-Year Drought

May 14, 2024

10:00-11:30am MST

The session will introduce the audience to the Alberta Water Council, talk about drought and some of the impacts of drought, and also cover recent work by the Alberta Water Council to develop a guide that supports watershed groups, municipalities and others to develop drought management plans. The plans help groups prepare for, respond to, and recover from severe droughts.

Learning Outcomes:

- Participants will learn about the Alberta Water Council
- Participants will learn about drought
- Participants will learn about drought management

Speakers:

Andre Asselin, Bsc. Andre was born and raised in Edmonton, Alberta. His family moved here from Ontario in the 1970s. He has a passion for water and is the Executive Director of two organizations, the Alberta Water Council and the Clean Air Strategic Alliance. He holds a BSc in Environmental Economics and Policy from the University of Alberta. He was an Honoured Guest at the 2019 Samson Cree Nation Pow Wow. Members of the Technical Services Advisory Group and members of the nipi committee of Samson Cree Nation have participated on Alberta Water Council teams, including the current Drought Mutual Support Committee.

Target Audience: Everyone will learn something about the Alberta Water Council and drought, but people who are involved in planning for and responding to droughts for their communities will find this especially interesting.
