10:00-11:30am MT

Join this session for a general overview of Turning Point Society of Central Alberta that covers programs and services, how services are provided and how to access them, along with who can access services. We'll also cover our history, the impacts of our funding loss, and our path forward.

Learning Outcomes:

- What Turning Point Society of Central Alberta does
- Who Turning Point Society of Central Alberta supports
- How folks can get connected with us
- The importance of our programs and services in the community within the continuum of care

Speakers:

Raesi Labata, LPN, Turning Point Society of Central Alberta - Raesi is a licensed practical nurse, and has worked with Turning Point for over 2 years. She worked in the Women's Program until its closure in late 2025, and now the Women's Specialist providing support to vulnerable women in an outreach capacity. Raesi's work involves case management of women of childbearing age who have complex needs driven by houselessness, substance use, and/or poverty - many of whom are Indigenous. Raesi also supports the Overdose Prevention program, educating individuals and community on substance use supports, naloxone and overdose response.
