

Using the CHIP SLICE School-Age Report to Organize Your School Immunization Program

October 13, 2026

10:00-11:30am MT

A practical review of the CHIP SLICE School Age Report Tickler. Learn how to use the School-Age Tickler to quickly identify students who are eligible for school-age vaccines or who need catch-up doses of childhood vaccines. The session also covers how to export and print lists to support the parental consent process.

Learning Outcomes:

- Use SLICE and the filters available on the Tickler to identify target populations, such as:
 - Students who are eligible for vaccines
 - Students who require catch-up doses
 - Students who have received all immunizations for their age
- Learn how to prepare and export lists of target populations into Excel and streamline the parental consent process

Speakers:

Cathy McDermott, BSN, RN, Public Health Consultant, Okaki (12 years) - Cathy's role is to advise Okaki development of immunization related programs, such as CHIP.

Nareesa Karmali, BMSc, MScPH, MSc., Health Data Product Manager, Okaki

Target Audience: CHIP users who are involved in preparing, delivering, and analyzing the School Age immunization program: Managers, Public Health Nurses, Administrative Staff
