

Addressing Bullying In-Person & Online: There's No App for That

November 12, 2026

1:30-3:00pm MT

Join this session for an overview of what PREVNet is, with a focus on bullying. Specifically, how common it is, the negative effects, how we can understand bullying from a culturally-relevant and structural perspective, and strategies to know if your child is involved in bullying and ways to support them. This session will also highlight the ways PREVNet supports bullying prevention, and strategies for supporting your communities. This session will also discuss considerations for Indigenous youth.

Learning Outcomes:

- Knowing what PREVNet does and ways to find resources on our website to prevent bullying in your communities
- Be able to discuss bullying from a culturally-relevant and structural perspective
- Understand how adults play a role in supporting youth's healthy relationships
- Identify strategies to support youth who are experiencing and/or engaging in bullying

Speakers:

Dr. Wendy Craig is a leading international scientist and expert on bullying prevention and the promotion of healthy relationships. As co-founder of PREVNet (Promoting Relationships and Eliminating Violence Network), she has transformed our understanding of bullying and translated the science into evidence-based practice, intervention, and policy to communities across Canada.

Dr. Deinera Exner-Cortens is the Scientific Director of PREVNet. She is also an Associate Professor and Tier 2 Canada Research Chair (Childhood Health Promotion) in the Department of Psychology at the University of Calgary. Her research focuses on evaluating healthy relationships resources in school and community settings, developing and evaluating implementation support tools for schools, and preventing adolescent dating violence and suicide.

Target Audience: Adults who work with youth, and who are willing to be a part of bullying prevention efforts
