

Aurora Child & Youth Advocacy Centre: Supporting Children, Youth and Families

December 3, 2026

1:30-3:00pm MT

Join us to learn about Aurora Child & Youth Advocacy Centre, the services and supports we provide to children, youth and families impacted by abuse, and the communities we serve. We'll share how our multidisciplinary team works together to provide a coordinated, child-centred response, including forensic interviews, advocacy, caregiver support and therapeutic services.

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the role of Aurora Child & Youth Advocacy Centre and the communities we serve
- Learn about the services available to children, youth and non-offending caregivers
- Gain an understanding of how our multidisciplinary partners work together to support children and families
- Learn how children, youth and families can be referred to or access support through Aurora

Speakers:

Cheryl Patterson, BA, Manager, Aurora Child & Youth Advocacy Centre - Cheryl has over 20 years of experience in human services, including extensive experience in leadership, program development and supporting vulnerable children and families. She has managed Aurora Child & Youth Advocacy Centre since 2021, overseeing its multidisciplinary partnerships, service delivery and continued development.

Christina Schmidt, RSW, Acting Supervisor, Aurora Child & Youth Advocacy Centre - Christina is a Registered Social Worker and Acting Supervisor at Aurora Child & Youth Advocacy Centre. She supports the Centre's daily operations, advocacy services and coordination with multidisciplinary partners to ensure children, youth and families receive timely, compassionate support.

Target Audience: First Nations community members, health and social service providers, child and family services professionals, educators, and others who support children, youth and families.
